

Sustainability Intern

Who We Are

Wyloo carries a diverse portfolio of assets located in three of the world's most prolific nickel belts in: Kambalda, Western Australia; the Cape-Smith Belt in Quebec, Canada; and the Ring of Fire region in Ontario, Canada. The geology in each of these regions enables us to produce high-grade, low-carbon nickel sulphide with the highest standards of sustainability.

Opportunity

Reporting to the Manager, Sustainability and Government Relations or Manager, Permitting and Compliance, this position is located in Thunder Bay, Ontario and may require travel to Toronto, Ontario, remote First Nations in Northwestern Ontario or to the Wyloo's Eagle's Nest Project, located within the traditional territory of Marten Falls First Nation and approximately 100 km east of Webequie First Nation.

Responsibilities:

- Demonstrate a commitment to safety and excellence.
- Work, communicate, and support logistics within a team environment towards well-defined objectives;
- Support an understanding of environmental performance within the site team and promote a culture which meets or exceeds protocols;
- Analyze, interpret, and manage environmental data to ensure quality standards are met; and
- Assist in the preparation of internal and external environmental documents.

Qualifications:

- Degree or diploma in an applicable environmental or a related field;
- Previous experience conducting work within a field-based environment;
- Experience in a mining or industrial environment will be highly regarded;
- Experience with Microsoft Suite of products, including excel, word, and outlook;
- Capacity to work to tight deadlines with evolving priorities; and
- Must be able to handle a high level of confidentiality. Strong self-organizational skills, time management, interpersonal communication. Analytical and critical thinking are essential for this role.

Accommodation is available upon request for applicants throughout the selection process.

Interested applicants can submit their resume to jatkinson@wyloorof.com